Grievance Redressal Cell

An essential component of every administration is the Grievance Redressal System. The administration of the college is in charge of giving all of its employees and students a safe and happy work environment. In accordance with UGC standards, the College has established a Grievance Redressal Committee to address issues from both staff and students. The principal has had direct control over the Committee ever since the college's founding.

The grievances that the principal receives are sent to the relevant Committee members, who investigate the issues based on the gravity of the situation.

The Committee has been working tirelessly to establish a peaceful and accommodating environment for all parties involved.

Staff can mail their grievance at: tulsi_college@rediffmail.com

Functions of the Grievance Redressal Committee

- To take formal complaints about the system from staff and students.
- To design and put into place a system for managing the grievances that are reported.
- To forward the results to management for additional action, if needed.
- To hear, document, and carefully consider the complaints that staff and students bring to their attention, and to act promptly to address any issues that arise.
- To address the complaints in accordance with the veracity and seriousness of the remarks expressed.
- To represent the complaints to the relevant section, which may include issues with academics, transportation, amenities, maintenance, etc.
- To call regular meetings to discuss whether or not the complaints have been resolved.
- To monitor these cases until their resolution at regular intervals.
- To uphold strict confidentiality as required.
