The National Service Scheme (NSS) was launched in 1969, the birth centenary year of the Father of Nation, by the Government of India. It is a voluntary association of young people, especially college students to work for campus-community linkages. The aim is to develop student's personality through community service.

The NSS unit of Tulsi College provides a platform to the students for community work and developing a sense of involvement in the tasks of nation building. NSS volunteers work to ensure that a needy get help to enhance their standard of living. A variety of activities are organized every year to channelize the energy and idealism of the younger generation into creative pursuits. They educate students and society regarding many issues like health, sanitation, palliation, etc. Various health camps and cleanliness drives across campus and slum areas nearby are taken out regularly to create awareness and also to motivate people to work towards a clean environment.

The NSS unit functions under the guidance of a Programme Officer. The NSS wing of college focuses on providing access and opportunities to underprivileged in health and education. Some of the major events of the NSS Unit are.

Creating awareness about water conservation at Hotel Tulsi College in Beed can be an impactful initiative. Here are some effective strategies to promote this important message.

1. Workshops and Seminars

- Organize workshops on the importance of water conservation.
- Invite experts to speak about sustainable practices and the water crisis.

2. Awareness Campaigns

- Launch a campaign using posters and banners throughout the hotel premises highlighting water-saving tips.
- Use social media to share facts and strategies for saving water.

 Sci. & I.T., Beed-431122

Y. K. Thombare
 Principal
 Tulsi College of Computer
 Sci. & I.T., Beed-431122

3. Interactive Activities

- Conduct quizzes or competitions focused on water conservation themes with small rewards to encourage participation.
- Set up demonstrations showing the impact of small changes, like fixing leaks or using water-saving fixtures.

4. Incentivize Water-Saving Practices

- Offer discounts or incentives to guests who opt for towels and linens reuse, reducing water usage in laundry.
- Create a rewards program for staff who suggest effective water-saving measures.

5. Educational Material

- Distribute pamphlets and brochures in guest rooms and common areas with tips on saving water.
- Include information on local water issues to personalize the message.

6. Collaboration with Local Organizations

- Partner with local environmental groups for workshops and outreach programs.
- Involve students from Tulsi College in initiatives, promoting a sense of community responsibility.

7. Feedback Mechanism

- Set up a suggestion box for guests and staff to propose water-saving ideas.
- Regularly review and implement feasible suggestions.

8. Water-Saving Technologies

- Showcase water-efficient appliances and practices within the hotel.
- Provide information on how these technologies contribute to conservation.

9. Regular Monitoring

- Track water usage and share statistics with guests and staff to highlight the impact of conservation efforts.

By implementing these strategies, Hotel Tulsi College can play a significant role in raising awareness about water conservation and fostering a culture of sustainability.

AIDS Awareness Event Report

Intentional Youth Day at Tulsi College, Beed

Introduction

In recognition of International Youth Day, Tulsi College organized an AIDS Awareness event aimed at educating students and the community about HIV/AIDS. The initiative focused on promoting understanding, reducing stigma, and encouraging safe practices among youth.

Objectives

- To raise awareness about HIV/AIDS among students.
- To dispel myths and misconceptions related to the disease.
- To promote safe practices and healthy lifestyles.
- To empower students to take informed actions regarding their health.

Activities Conducted

1. Guest Speakers:

- Experts from local health organizations delivered talks on the causes, prevention, and treatment of HIV/AIDS.
- Personal stories shared by individuals living with HIV to highlight resilience and the importance of support.

2. Workshops:

- Interactive sessions focused on safe practices, such as safe sex education and the importance of regular health check-ups.
- Discussions on mental health and the emotional impact of living with or being affected by HIV.

3. Awareness Campaign:

- Distribution of informational pamphlets and brochures covering essential facts about HIV/AIDS.
- Posters and banners were displayed throughout the college to attract attention and spread awareness.

4. Interactive Activities:

- Quizzes and competitions with prizes to engage students and reinforce learning.
- Role-playing scenarios to help students understand real-life situations and responses related to HIV/AIDS.

Mask Distribution Report: Tulsi College, Beed

Date: 17-06-2020

Location: Various Villages in Beed District

Organized by: Tulsi College of Computer Sci & I.T Beed.

Introduction

In response to the ongoing health challenges posed by the pandemic, Tulsi College organized a mask distribution initiative aimed at promoting public health and safety in nearby villages. The event took place on [insert date] and involved students and faculty members actively participating in community service.

Objectives

- To provide face masks to underserved communities to help prevent the spread of COVID-19 and other respiratory diseases.
- To raise awareness about the importance of wearing masks and maintaining hygiene practices.
- To engage students in community service and foster a sense of responsibility towards public health.

Activities Conducted

1. Preparation and Planning:

- The organizing committee coordinated with local health authorities to determine the need for masks in specific villages.
- A total of [insert number] masks were procured and prepared for distribution.

2. Awareness Campaign:

- Prior to distribution, informational pamphlets highlighting the importance of mask-wearing and hygiene practices were prepared.
- Students were briefed on how to communicate effectively with community members about health and safety.

3. Distribution Process:

- Teams of volunteers were formed, each assigned to different villages.
- Masks were distributed directly to villagers, along with pamphlets that provided guidance on proper mask usage and hygiene.

4. Engagement Activities:

- Interactive sessions were conducted in some villages to educate residents about COVID-19, its transmission, and preventive measures.
- Community members were encouraged to ask questions and share their concerns regarding health and safety.

Participation

The initiative saw enthusiastic participation from over 02 students and faculty members, as well as active engagement from local residents.

Outcomes

- A total of 420 masks were distributed across 03 villages.
- Increased awareness among community members regarding the importance of wearing masks and maintaining hygiene.
- Strengthened relationships between Tulsi College and local communities through collaborative efforts in health promotion.

Conclusion

The mask distribution initiative by Tulsi College was a commendable effort to contribute to public health during challenging times. The active involvement of students not only provided essential resources to communities but also instilled a sense of civic duty among participants.

Organizing a blood donation drive at Tulsi College in Beed can be a valuable community initiative. Here's how to plan and execute a successful blood donation campaign:

1. Collaboration with Blood Banks

- Partner with a local blood bank or hospital to facilitate the drive. They can provide medical staff, equipment, and guidelines.

2. Set a Date and Venue

- Choose a convenient date and reserve a space on campus, such as a large hall or open area, where donors can comfortably donate blood.

3. Awareness Campaign

- Promote the event through posters, social media, and announcements in classes to raise awareness about the importance of blood donation.
- Share statistics about the need for blood and the impact of donations on saving lives.

4. Registration Process

- Set up a registration desk to encourage students and faculty to sign up in advance. This helps in planning and ensures a smooth process on the day of the event.

5. Incentives for Donors

- Consider offering small incentives such as snacks, certificates, or participation in a lucky draw to encourage donations.

Report on Covid 19 Vaccination Camp

A Covid-19 vaccination camp is organized Tulsi College of Computer Science & Information technology dated on 30-10-2021 on 10:00 am, according to instruction received from higher education department.

During a vaccination camp, trained healthcare professionals administer vaccines to eligible individuals. They may also provide information on the benefits of vaccination, how to prevent the spread of diseases, and answer any questions or concerns people may have.

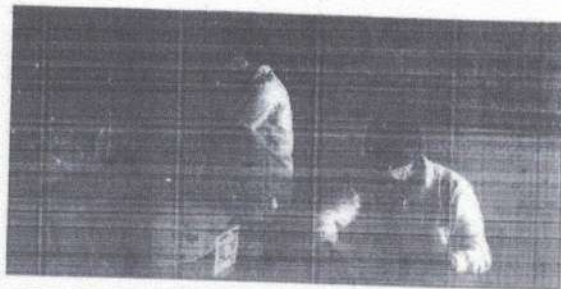

Before the vaccination, individuals are screened to determine their eligibility and to identify any potential allergies or medical conditions that may interfere with the vaccine's effectiveness or safety.

Once the vaccination is administered, individuals are usually asked to wait for a short period of time to monitor for any adverse reactions. They are also provided with information on what to do if they experience any side effects after leaving the camp.

It sounds like you're looking for information about financial assistance and mobile distribution at Tulsi College in Beed. While I don't have specific details about that institution, many colleges offer financial aid programs and initiatives to support students, including mobile distribution for educational purposes.

Here are a few steps you can take:

1. Contact the College Administration: Reach out directly to Tulsi College's administrative office or student services. They can provide specific information about financial aid, scholarships, and any mobile distribution programs.
2. Visit the College Website: Check the official website for information on financial assistance, eligibility criteria, and application processes. They may also have announcements about mobile distribution.
3. Student Support Services: Many colleges have dedicated departments for student support that can guide you through financial aid options or resources available to help with technology needs.
4. Community Programs: Look for local community organizations or government initiatives that might offer assistance or resources for students in your area.

Sci. & I.T., Beed-431122

The Swachh Bharat Abhiyan, or Clean India Mission, is a significant campaign aimed at promoting cleanliness and sanitation across India. At Tulsi College, this initiative might include various activities such as:

1. Cleanliness Drives: Organizing regular campus clean-up events where students and staff participate in cleaning the college premises.
2. Awareness Programs: Conducting workshops and seminars to educate students about the importance of hygiene, waste management, and environmental sustainability.
3. Waste Segregation: Implementing proper waste disposal systems, including bins for biodegradable and non-biodegradable waste, to encourage responsible waste management.
4. Promotion of Eco-Friendly Practices: Encouraging the use of reusable items, minimizing plastic usage, and promoting sustainable practices among students and faculty.
5. Community Involvement: Engaging with local communities through outreach programs that extend the principles of cleanliness and sanitation beyond the college campus.

Mobile online transactions refer to financial transactions conducted using mobile devices, such as smartphones or tablets. This can include various activities like:

1. Mobile Banking: Accessing bank accounts, transferring money, and managing finances through banking apps.
2. Mobile Payments: Using services like Apple Pay, Google Pay, or Samsung Pay to make purchases in stores or online.
3. E-commerce: Shopping on websites or apps using mobile devices, often with integrated payment options.
4. Peer-to-Peer Transfers: Sending money to friends or family using apps like Venmo, Cash App, or Zelle.
5. In-App Purchases: Buying digital goods or services directly within mobile applications.

Security is crucial in mobile transactions, so measures like two-factor authentication, encryption, and biometric security are commonly used to protect users' information. Would you like to know more about a specific aspect?

The context

water is a precious natural resource which is essential for life on the earth. It is becoming scarce and valuable resource as population and water consumption rise and other side water resource management is being poor. That's why state government of Maharashtra launched a scheme 'Jalyukt shivar' for the solving water problems in drought-affected villages. Water shortage is root of other problems. Such as, some of the villages of Beed district their peoples are facing drinking water problems in the summer session. Hence in this best practice to adopt the 'Fill half save half campaign' initiative aimed at saving water at least Beed district. With the help of this best practices the college has been trying to saving water at city-based hotels – restaurants. And trying to creates awareness about the importance of water since least three years.

The practice

The college has initiatives for running this type of activities at college campus. Because, so many students are belonging from the rural area and they know the importance of drinking water as well as water uses. They are real victims of this problem. So, it's easy to found this problem to college and they also know, how to reduce this problem with the help of the students. That's why college has been working on that and trying creates awareness between hotels and restaurants customers which are located at nearby the college. Ours first year student going at hotel and restaurants and giving the information about the importance of water as well as stick their posters of 'Fill half save half campaign' which are run by the college since least three years.
